

ASSOCIATION DES
BLAIS
D'AMÉRIQUE

Genealogical Dictionary

Digital version

Over time, several genealogists have worked individually, to reconstruct the descendants of Pierre Blais, individually, namely: Jacques Blais (M-82), Gilles Blais (M-99), Serge Blais (M-308) and the late Yves Blais (M -80). In April 2005, under the presidency of Lucille Blais (M-215), a project was started to merge their knowledge. The Association began compiling their accumulated information. Jacques Blais (M-82) agreed to be the project manager. A first version of the dictionary was printed in 2008, followed in 2011 by “Les Blais d’Amérique –Index des conjoints” which was the alphabetical index of the spouses.

To date, the main collaborators are: Jacques Blais (M-82), Guy Morin (M-779), Marie-Claude St-Pierre (M-861), Louise Tucker (M-243), Robert Blais (M-759), Monique Blais (M-806) and Lise St-Pierre (M-908) who are continually adding new people and families.

Since 2020, the Association has been thinking about new ways to disseminate this valuable information. The publication of new volumes such as that of marriages in 2005 had to be abandoned due to the significant orienting costs that this would represent. The amount of data collected has more than doubled and is constantly growing.

The choice was made to make the available data accessible through a web browser (Edge, Chrome, Firefox, etc.). This product is identified as The Next Generation of Genealogy Sitebuilding (TNG), (<https://tngsitebuilding.com/>), a creation of designer Darrin Lythgoe. The Association members, like you, can freely view this dictionary without any purchase. For the Association, except for evolutionary updates, there is no design costs and only one license is required at a reasonable cost to the Association. Members like you can freely view this dictionary without any purchase.

The first tests were initiated in 2020, with a goal of understanding the software. In March 2022, the first digital database was officially released. This was updated periodically, from the database maintained by Jacques Blais (M-82) using the Brother's Keeper software.

The Blais d’Amérique Association has photos and genealogical records accumulated over time. This information was made available by Jacques Blais (M-82) from the moment software tests began, up until May 5th, 2023.

Volunteer Collaborators from the Genealogy Committee added new registrations and modified existing data with assistance from members like you, who notified the Association of additions and corrections that needed to be made.

Usage and research considerations

Consultation (Guest)

Access made available to members of the Association, under a GUEST status, allows you to view detailed information relating to deceased people. However, in line with the Personal Information Protection Act (privacy laws), for living people, only their names are visible, without birth & marriage dates nor other data.

This aims to protect people from potential fraud, particularly identity theft and aims to comply with legal broadcasting rules and to reduce this type of risk. For legal reasons, only the Genealogy Team has access to profiles of living people.

We invite members, like you, to send us genealogical information (family charts), additions or modifications. You may use the Association's "Family File" form (https://www.blaisdamerique.com/_iserv/dlfiles/dl.php?ddl=fiche-de-famille-interactif.pdf) or any other format. Unfortunately, for logistical reasons, we cannot accept GEDCOM files. A GEDCOM is an exchange format between genealogical software to produce and/or receive family trees.

To facilitate data verification and integration, we ask members to provide us with genealogical proof (screenshots, documents, deeds, photos with people identified/dates, place and occasion if know).

With all info submitted, we require the completed "Authorization form – Photos and Media" form available (https://www.blaisdamerique.com/_iserv/dlfiles/dl.php?ddl=authorization-form-for-usage-rights-2023-11-11-interactif.pdf). The authorization form gives us the right to use the information in the documents provided, into the dictionary.

Verifications and integrations are carried out by a member of the Genealogy Committee.

All information must be sent to genealogie@blaisdamerique.com.

Or by mail at:

Searching for and locating people & families in the digital dictionary

You will understand there are many people whose last name is BLAIS. We recommend searching for a non-BLAIS member, particularly a spouse, as this will facilitate locating the correct Blais line.

Once a person has been located, their immediate family info is provided on their profile, with the option to create numerous types of reports.

Naming of individuals and families

In the different acts (birth, baptism, marriage, death, etc.), several first or last names are recorded and can be used in the search bar without always being the same. Additionally, there are also first/last names with hyphens.

There are cases of people with different names in birth/baptism records and the first name used in everyday life being different from one record to another.

Furthermore, in certain cases, first and last names may have been anglicized or transformed...

Pierre, Peter, Pete Henri, Henry, Harry Laurent, Lawrence, Larry Jacques, Jacob, Jack, Jake Guillaume, Guy, William, Bill, Billy Marguerite, Margret, Maggie, Marg François, Francis, Frank,	Roy anglicized to King Poirier anglicized to Perry Leblanc anglicized to White Charles contracted à Chas

In this context, it is important to try several searches using various criteria to successfully find the person of interest.

An advanced search with part of a first or last name would allow you to broaden your results:

“mar” will give results such as: Marie, Marianne, Mary, Martine, Marcel, Marcelle, Rosemary, ...

“lima” will result in Rose-Délina, Rose-de-Lima, Délina, Zélina, ...

Accents are not required; the search will give results of names with and without accents.

Hyphens, however, are required for double barrel names, unless you search only one of the names (ex: Jean-Baptiste or Jean- or Baptiste).

Conclusion

You are invited to regularly consult the Blais d'Amérique website where will be deposited document to help your genealogical research in the section Genealogy digital dictionary – research help (<https://www.blaisdamerique.com/research-help.html>) as it will be periodically updated.
